Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

| The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.  | We believe that the voices of people using the service are heard and they are encouraged to give feedback on the care they receive. This is evidenced by the home meetings, communication strategies and talking with residents as part of the Responsible Individual's (RI) visits. Relatives and visiting professionals arealso spoken to who confirm that these practices are adopted and used by the service.People have choices in how their care and support is deliveredby the service and staff ensure that this care is followed, reviewed, and updated as change happens.The service now uses an electronic care planning/monitoring system which provides live data feeds. This enables the manager;deputy manager and RI can see remotely that the care that is required by our people is being safely and effectively delivered.People using the service are encouraged by the staff team to maximise the opportunities available to them - this is not restricted to health and welfare, but also social opportunities to ensure that they remain an active citizen/part of the community of whichthey reside.Where people who use our service have difficulties in engagingin decisions about their care and consent, we have clear procedures for assessing their decision-making capacities and for making sure that any decisions taken on someone's behalf because of these difficulties are recorded as best interest decisionsand are agreed as such by all concerned.The service ensures that informed consent is given and wherepeople are unable to do these authorised persons have consented on their behalf.The service continues to be flexible where people are encouraged to have choice over their daily lives, and with staff supporting them to choose and to carry out their decisions. This is observed in every aspect of daily living. |
|---|---|
| The extent to which people are happy and supported tomaintain their ongoing health, development and overallwellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, socialand behavioural development. | We believe that people using our service are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development, and overallwellbeing.From the point of admission to the service, our team ensures that we have as much information as possible about them as an individual which includes their background, current lifestyle, likes and dislikes, nutritional need /preferences, cultural and religious needs, interests and who they would like involved in their care decisions.Communication between staff teams remains good and staff are briefed on peoples needs so that they have a basis for developing their understanding and relationship with that person andcan positively engage in person-centred care.Continuity of care through effective rostering systems at the service is maintained and ensures that each person is given theirassessed and required care in line with their needs and for staffto work at their pace. Routines are developed around people.When staff identify that a person's need has changed the careplan is reviewed, developed, and communicated with staff so that care continues to be effective, and the person remains supported.   |

| The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.  | From the point of induction to the service, we emphasise that staff should put the needs of our people at the centre of everythingthey do so that our core values and ethos is delivered.The staff team always understand and respect the importanceof treating people with dignity and respect. We actively encourage and expect staff to be always communicating with the peoplethey care for in meaningful ways when carrying assisting with allactivities of daily living to avoid care being routine and task-centtred/orientated.We hold regular discussions with people who use the service, their relatives (and representatives), and members of the multi-professional team to take in their views on the care that is received and to address any concerns that they might have. Through regular visits and feedback, it is evident that people who use theservice (and the relatives) feel safe and protected from harm, abuse, or neglect.People who use the service are happy, engaging and enjoy lifeat the service. The staff team are engaging and the relationshipsthey have with people are positive and it is evident form theway in which everyone engages that they fully understand the needs of the people they care for.We operate a robust clinical governance, quality, and risk strategy which has a large focus on service reporting through internal notifications. These notifications assist us to identify trends orr patterns of the service which means that any negative impactthat the service may have on people we care for is quickly identified so that practices can be changed, policies reviewed, or additional training needs addressed. |
| The extent to which people live in accommodation that bestsupports their wellbeing and achievement of their personaloutcomes. | The home, it's facilities and equipment are subject to an ongoing programme of maintenance where documented evidence supports regular compliance checks, servicing, and repair. This ensures that risks to people living at the service are mitigated andeverything remains in good working order and is safe to use.Re-decoration is ongoing so that the needs of people who live in the service are continually met.The layout of the home ensures that people's personal outcomes are achieved.Areas are safe, secure and provides a homely and comfortablefeel. There are ample day space areas where people can enjoybeing part of the community in which they live.Bedrooms are personalised and provide a comfortable environment for people.  |
