Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

	I
The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	 Five in-person interviews with residents, seven resident questionnaires and nine resident family questionnaires demonstrate satisfaction and appreciation for caring staff who acknowledge residents and talk/engage with h residents in a non-patronising fashion. Residents and their families also feel there is a variety of quality and tasty food, with individual well-being maintained; no red spoons for o ne resident as an example and meat choice adjustment for another resident example. Cleanliness of individual rooms. During the redecoration of rooms in the home, residents hav e been consulted about the choice of furniture, which has been received very well. Excellent on respectful treatment of friends/relatives, well trai ned and caring team with an agreement amongst residents and residents' families that care needs are reviewed frequently enough and changes are put in place quickly. A person-centred approach is taken with care reviews. Staff feel well supported in their daily roles and training need s and are generally happy to be part of a collaborative team
