Summary

3 Woodside is a care service which is able to accommodate up to three residents. Stephen Smothers is the Responsible Individual (RI) who is accountable for overseeing the management of the service. The manager is registered with the workforce regulator Social Care Wales; they manage this service along with another small service nearby.

This was a focused inspection to follow up a priority action notice (PAN) we issued at the last inspection regarding duty of candour. We found the provider has communicated with CIW openly and honestly since our last inspection and therefore the PAN has been achieved.

People are well looked after and content with their day-to-day lives. Care staff treat people with warmth, dignity and respect. The management and oversight of the service needs to be improved some areas. Reports from the RI are not specific to this service, as required in the regulations. Care staff do not receive regular supervision with their line manager.

Well-being

The service promotes people's rights and encourages them to have choice and control over their everyday lives. People have autonomy over their own lives as much as possible and care staff know their likes and dislikes. People are supported to engage in activities, which are meaningful to them. Care workers understand the importance of getting to know people as individuals. They encourage people to express themselves and know what communication methods to use to help people to understand the information they are given. People have positive interactions with care workers.

Care workers recognise when people need emotional support and provide this with kindness and compassion. Residents are encouraged to achieve individual goals that help to develop their skills and independence. Residents have their own rooms, which are personalised to their own tastes. People have family photos, cards and collectables in their rooms, which gives a homely feel to their surroundings.

The service helps to protect people from abuse and neglect. Care staff complete training in relation to the safeguarding of adults at risk and understand their role in protecting people. The service has a safeguarding policy. People are encouraged to share their views about the service they receive.

Care and Support

As this was a focussed inspection, we have not considered this theme, in full.

We saw care staff interact positively with individuals. Care staff provide support with dignity and respect. People have positive relationships with each other and have autonomy over day-to-day decisions.

Infection prevention and control procedures are good. The inspectors were asked for evidence of negative COVID tests before being allowed to enter the premises. We saw care staff wearing appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE) when supporting people in line with guidance.

Environment

As this was a focussed inspection, we have not considered this theme, in full.

People live in a comfortable homely and safe environment. We saw that most of the previous environmental issues we had raised have been addressed. New flooring has been laid in the corridor and bedroom which is now safe for the use of lifting equipment. The doorframes and skirting boards have not yet been painted. We saw a badly worn leather armchair in the lounge which requires repair or replacement. We were assured by the RI that these matters would be addressed.

Leadership and Management

As this was a focussed inspection, we have not considered this theme, in full.

We issued the provider with some areas of improvement in this theme in December 2021. We reviewed these areas at this inspection and will test them fully at our next full inspection.

Staff personnel records are not kept at the service and available for inspection, as required in the regulations. The records were brought to the home when requested but inadequate arrangements are in place to meet this requirement. The person who brought the records needed to attend a meeting elsewhere and so limited time was given to review the documents. Not all of the information required was available for the staff files we checked.

Staff do not receive one to one supervision with their line manager as often as required. We checked three staff files and saw two of these had not received a supervision in the previous six months.

The quality-of-care report did not contain a date to evidence the period it covered and was not specific to the service, as required.

Summary of Non-Compliance

We respond to non-compliance with regulations where poor outcomes for people, and / or risk to people’s well-being are identified by issuing Priority Action Notice (s).

The provider must take immediate steps to address this and make improvements. Where providers fail to take priority action by the target date we may escalate the matter to an Improvement and Enforcement Panel.
